done on a large scale yet, and will not be, until the success or non-success of the experiment is proven.
-For fresh groceries, read the advertisement of A. Williford & Co. in this morning's issue. They also have a full line of saddles, bridles and harness, which they are selling cheap for cash.
-In consequence of the illness of Prof. Withers School Commissioner Milling has engaged Mr. W. J. Keller and Mr. D. G. Dwight to assist him in grading the papers of the recent examination for teachers.
-Bear in mind that if you wish your order for a crayon portrait to go forward with the next lot you will have to bring your picture not later than Monday to Lauderdale.
-We respectfully suggest to the R. & D. R. a cheaper rate for next year's fair, and incidentally advise the adoption of a winter schedule for train No. 37, south-bound. Give a margin of two hours over its schedule time here and it will be satisfactory.
-The mule stolen by a negro last week was found on Genl. Bratton's Canaan place Thursday. A negro, supposed to be the thief, was arrested in Chester and brought down for identification. He was the wrong negro, however, and was turned loose at once.
-The crowd this year will probably be at the Augusta Exposition. Few attended the State Fair, preferring to wait for this since the railroad rates are about the same. This town will probably send down near two hundred visitors during that occasion. The County too has an exhibit there and that will be of interest to all of us.
Hence some will go for a holiday, some may be by the liberty allowed over there to take a drink of "non-alcoholic" and all by the desire for pleasure.
-The Davis Sewing Machine Company of which Mr. J. O. Boag is agent here, received an award of merit at the Columbian Exposition.
-The base ball season is over, but there is always something to interest the lovers of athletic sports. The foot ball season has opened with a grand flourish, and those who during the summer and early fall watched the papers eagerly for ball news, now just as anxiously read the reports of the foot ball games between Yale, Harvard, Princeton and other leading universities. The game is rapidly becoming popular in the South, and we understand a series of games is being arranged between some of our State colleges. It will not be very long before every village and hamlet which hasn't an "eleven" will be censidered sadly behind the times.
-The members of the Dramatic Club have been disappointed so many times recently in their plans for making a brief theatrical tour, that they are almost afraid to make any more definite announcements. It seems, though, that their visit to Chester and Rock Hill in the near future is a certainty.
Only one or two members of the cast

HYMENEA.—Married, at Simpson's, the bride's parents, by Rev. J. W.

McClure, Miss Carrie Brice Richardson and Mr. Thomas R. Dunlap. All of Fairfield County.

—Lauderdale has still a nice assortment of ladies' wraps which will be closed out cheap. Look at them if you wish one.

THE AUGUSTA EXPOSITION.—The Augusta Exposition has in today's issue an advertisement which our readers should be sure to see. The railroad rates are very low, being only $.24 from this point. A large number of exhibitors have transferred their exhibits from Chicago, and some of these alone will be worth the trip.

THIS BAR ENDS JUDGE SIMON-TON.—A petition has been signed by every member of the Wimborsboro Bar, requesting President Cleveland to appoint Judge Charles H. Simonton to the judgeship made vacant by the death of Judge John G. Simonton is thoroughly appreciated and admired by the members of the local bar.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.—The following is a list of letters remaining uncalled for in the postoffice for the week ending November 6:
Mrs. M. S. Adams, Miss Minnie
Brunham, Miss May Dobz, Mrs. Judy Gibson, Mrs. Spence Lee.

All persons calling for the above named letters will please say they are advertised. There is a fee of one cent upon each letter.

A CHANCE FOR A DESERVING DOY--Reference to another column will show an advertisement containing the official announcement that the directors of the Patrick Military Academy have perfected arrangements whereby one meritorious young man of limited means from each county will be admitted to that institution free of charge for tuition. The School Commissioner of each county has the privilege of making these appointments in any way he sees fit. Appointees must be named on December 15th, and they will matriculate January 1st. The total annual necessary expenses of a pay cadet at the P. M. A. does not exceed $240. Beneficiaries therefore will not need to be provided with uniforms, pay board, and incidentals.
The scholarship is in other words, worth $50. This is an excellent opportunity for some boy in search of an education.

FAIRFIELD AT THE FAIR.
Fairfield exhibitors at the State Fair always succeed in capturing their share of premiums, and this year proved to be no exception to the rule.
Mr. John G. Mobley's herd of cattle swept the field, taking in all several hundred dollars in premiums.
Mr. F. Elder's bull took first premium in his class as well as all the sweepstakes. In all, $35.
Mr. Harden's usual was a very good one. In the household category, the "Royal Baking Powder" received a gold medal, and the

WHO KNOWS HUGH MCCREORY?

Information About a Former Citizen of Fairfield Wanted.

THE NEWS AND HERALD has received the following letter which is published in order that the desired information may, if possible, be secured: Editor News and Herald, Fairfield, S. C.: Dear Sir—Hugh McCreory left Fairfield, S. C., for Texas between 1889 and 1892. His heirs are now entitled to some valuable property in Texas, if any proofs can be made as to his identity. There are probably some old persons in your County who can give the needed information.

Will you please publish this in your own way, and request those who knew Hugh McCreory to write to me.
Very respectfully, R. G. FITZ, Angusta, Ga.

Bureau of Information for Neglected and Abandoned Lands in Texas.

REPUBLICANS MAKE A CLEAN SWEEP.

Despatches from the States in which elections were held Tuesday show conclusively that the Republicans have won a most overwhelming victory.

New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Iowa, and Massachusetts have elected Republican candidates by very large majorities. The defeat of Democracy in the States mentioned is, of course, very easily accounted for by the fact that the present business depression is attributed by Republican leaders to the Democratic administration. Everybody is hopeful that good government and a sound financial policy will before the next Presidential election, cause a tidal wave such as swept the country in 1892, and made Grover Cleveland President.

DISPENSARY FIGURES.

Mr. Mobley, our local dispenser, has just filed his first quarterly report, and the following figures taken from it may be of interest to readers of THE NEWS AND HERALD.

The total sales for the quarter ending October 31st amount to $3,077.60.
Total profit for the same time, $793.66.
Expenses, $279.14. The net profit to be divided between the town and county is $214.52. During the month of October, $1,371.10 worth of whiskey, etc., was sold by the Wimborsboro dispensary. It will be seen that the sales have increased gradually each month since the new system went into operation, and it will be safe to say that by the 1st of July, 1894, the people who buy their "jags" here will have expended for that purpose upwards of $15,000. This statement will not, we think, tend to make those, who from principle oppose the dispensary system, any less antagonistic to it.

GIVE US AMUSEMENT.

We have heard the absence of amusements at the opera house here this season remarked upon time and again recently. Mr. Boag, who last year had furnished the town with some really fine entertainments, seems to have made no exertion at all this year to secure anything. Now this place can and will furnish a fair home to such companies as the Lotus Glee Club and the Boston Symphony Club in the musical line, and to Williford Clarke or some equally strong company of that character. We hope to have something good here before the season is over, and throw this out as a suggestion to Mr. Boag. The general worth-lessness of the average troupe is what kills out interest in a town of this size, but when such troupes as the ones mentioned had given entertainments here a line of amusements was established which were becoming fairly well patronized and which were certainly refreshing after the years we had endured worthless farces. We voice the sentiment of all lovers of music, drama, etc., when we call for something good.

DO YOU NEED TABLE DAMASK?

Caldwell & Ruff have an extra nice lot in white and red at very low prices.

JENKINSVILLE NOTES.

JENKINSVILLE, S. C., November 7.— The remains of Mrs. T. E. Bell were brought here from Florence today and interred in the family burial ground.
The deceased was a daughter of Dr.
J. G. McCreery. "Dust to dust, earth to earth, ashes to ashes." These words are ever solemn and awe-inspiring, but when pronounced over the grave of a mother, and mingled with the wall of sorrowing orphans, as in this case, they seem doubly so. Four children are left to mourn her loss.

Mr. James McCreery and family left for Paeolet Mills, Spartanburg County, two weeks since. They will there engage in factory work.

Mr. W. F. Stanton and wife have gone to Florida for the winter.

Mrs. McLunkin, of Haiselsville, Chester County, is visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

NOTICE.

Be modern. Don't harass the system with noxious dusts. Mowbray and Sons, of Charleston, S. C., have just received a large stock of modern and beautiful. It is simple, pleasant to taste and leaves no bad effects.

MARTIN-PEARSON.

On Wednesday morning, November 8th, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G.
Butler Pearson was the scene of a very joyful event, the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Mary Alston Pearson, to Mr. Joseph G. Martin, son of the late Mr. Gladney Martin.
Only the immediate relatives and a few friends and neighbors were present, but never has it been the writer's fortune to witness a more beautiful and impressive wedding.

The house was tastefully decorated with evergreens, feathery ferns and flowers, interspersed with bright hued autumn leaves, making a perfect power of loveliness. The effect of the scene was enhanced by thoughts of the glorious past. The walls of this grand old mansion in ante-bellum days have witnessed many brilliant gatherings of the gentry of Western Fairfield. Here the present bride's aunt, of whom she is named, was wed to Hymen's altar by that most brilliant and distinguished jurist and statesman, William Boyce.

The sky had for several days been overcast with clouds and, though not superstitions, we could but be mindful of the association of trials in life with gloomy weather, for the old maxim is, "Happy is the bride that the sun shines on." But Wednesday morning dawned bright and clear, and though few clouds showed passed over the sun, yet at the hour of the marriage his rays shone forth with warmth and brightness, typical of the love and hope that glowed in the hearts of the two that were to be made one.

The attendants, in the order in which they entered the room, were: Miss Lena Herbert Pearson, sister of the bride, in a charming gown of shell pink cashmere, profusely trimmed with rich old family lace. Delicately tinted pink waves nestled in her cascading hair and at her fair throat.
She wore slippers and gloves to match her dress. With her stood Mr. Charles Ladd, grandson of that talented lady, Mrs. C. Ladd, so well loved and remembered in Wimborsboro.
Miss Claudia Coleman, niece of the groom, was graciously dressed, to suit her years, in a soft snow white cashmere, prettily trimmed with white satin frills and lace; her long black hair plaited and tied with white satin ribbon. She stood with Mr. T. Delaney.

Miss Florence Martin, in becoming decollete costume of heliotrope ben-galine, richly trimmed with black tulle and cream lace, with lilies of the valley in her hair and on her corsage, came next, with Mr. Wade Vane. The bride, was attired in an exquisite, dainty costume of soft, billowy, pearl white satin, elegantly trimmed with brocade silk, ribbon and lace. She wore at her throat a beautiful brooch, the wedding gift of her cousin, Mrs.
R. G. Gaillard, of Virginia. In her hair was tastefully arranged a wreath of orange blossoms, from which fell soft folds her long, white, bridal veil. She entered the room with a cluster of orange blossoms. She wore white kid gloves and slippers to match.
As they came in the room the attendants separated, the bridesmaids taking their stand in a half-circle, the left and the groomsmen on the right. Then entered the bride, handsome in the arm of the tall and handsome groom. They took their stand under an umbrella of ferns and white roses. This device, instead of the bottled of the stores of life and the protection of the marriage state.

The family were honored with the presence of the Hon. H. P. Northrop, D. D., to perform the ceremony.
All present were charmed by the beautiful and impressive address, introductions to the ceremony proper, which the Bishop made to the contracting parties on the responsibility and sanctity of marriage. Arranged in a handsome traveling costume she sat in a low clear voice, "mid the solemn stillness of rapt listeners, he pronounced the words that made them man and wife.

When the ceremony and the congratulations were over, the guests were ushered into the breakfast room, where a spread of magnificent repast, of which only liberal country providers of "old time" can conceive.

After the bride had arrayed herself
and the groom, accompanied by many of their young friends, forming a merry party, repaired to the station, where they took the train for a short bridal tour, delaying for the present, an extended tour which they contemplate later to take to Virginia.

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS IN THE SOUTH.

Report of the Situation for the Week Ending November 5, 1893.

The Tradesman, Chattanooga, Tenn., in its review of the industrial situation in the South for the week ending November 5th, reports that the settlement of the financial question is producing good results. Renewed confidence is shown by inquiries received from prospective investors, by an increase in the demand for machinery, by arrangements being made to start up plants that have not been working, and by an enlarged volume of mercantile business. No material advance can be reported in the iron and coal market which has practically touched bottom. The Louisiana sugar crop is now coming into market and is one of the largest for many years, and the same is true of the rice crop. A slight advance in the price of cotton has brought out an increased supply, but many planters who can afford to do so are holding for yet higher prices.

The Tradesman reports twenty-three new industries as established or incorporated during the week, together with several enlargements of manufactories, and five important new buildings. Among noticeable new industries are the organization of the Bessemer Development Company, at Llano, Texas, capital $300,000, by T. J. Semple and others; the development of the Winston Machine Company, at Winston, N. C., capital $20, 000, by T. H. Sutton and associates; the Elkins Furniture and Hardware Company, at Elkins, W. Va., capital $20,000, by J. S. Posten and others, and the Simons and McGraw and Manufacturing Company, at Dallas, Texas, capital $20,000, by James Simmons, and associates.

A compress company, and a tobacco manufactory are reported at Chattanooga, Tenn.; mines and quarries are to be opened at Cedarville, Ga., Faith and Woodside, N. C.; flouring mills are to be built at Horse Cave, Ky., Elkins, N. C., and Union City, Tenn.; lumber mills at Atlanta, Ga., and Logan, W. Va., and saw and planing mills at Ball Play, Ala., and Barrow, Fla.

where every part of the machine is made from A to Z, is it

There's no bicycle like a Victor, and no plant so grandly complete as the one devoted exclusively to the manufacture of this king of wheels.
